Course Description:
Italian 250 aims to improve written proficiency in Italian through an in-depth study of syntactic structures and stylistic features. Taught in Italian, this course focuses on writing and revising. Students will have the opportunity to practice and refine their writing skills by analyzing and discussing in class a varied selection of texts that are drawn from a diverse range of genres: novels, short stories, fables, diaries, articles, essays, films, film reviews, and poetry. After discussing and analyzing their formal and stylistic features, as well as their specific ways of structuring the argument, students are asked to write and revise a minimum of six compositions in different genres.

Learning goals:
At the end of this course, students will be able to recognize different writing styles and registers of language and to identify the formal elements characterizing different types of narration and argumentation. Upon successful completion students will be able to comprehend and analyze written higher-level texts, compose in different genres (e.g., autobiography, critical essay, and short story) at an intermediate high level - as defined by the ACTFL Guidelines – and adequately respond to feed-back and suggestions for revisions.

Departmental Goal I:
General Linguistic Proficiency: Communicative and Intercultural Competence

This course satisfies Core Curriculum Learning Goals: AH (q) and W (s2, t, v).

- Area of Inquiry C: Arts and the Humanities.
- Goal q: Understand the nature of human languages and their speakers.
- Cognitive Skills and Processes A: Writing and Communication.
- s2: Respond effectively to editorial feedback from peers, instructors, and/or supervisors through successive drafts and revision.
- t: Communicate effectively in modes appropriate to a discipline or area of inquiry.
- v: Analyze and synthesize information and ideas from multiple sources to generate new insights.

Prerequisites:
Italian 132 or permission of the Undergraduate Director.

Required texts
A good Italian/English dictionary such as Collins.

Course information, announcements, assignments, readings and deadlines will be posted on Sakai. Students MUST print and bring to every class the material that will be covered during the week. Please make sure that you have access to our page after the first class. You will need a Rutgers username and password. You are responsible for checking Sakai regularly.

Course requirements:
Written work:
You will be assigned a composition every week. Compositions (first and final draft) must be submitted electronically through your Sakai Drop Box. No late or make-up compositions will be accepted. Compositions will be graded on a percentage scale. The first draft is worth 70% of the composition’s grade while the final draft is worth 30%.

Participation:
The class will be conducted in Italian, and you are expected to participate entirely in Italian. Attendance is mandatory. Please note that attendance, the quality and quantity of your participation and of your responses to the instructor’s corrections and suggestions for revisions are an integral part of your final grade.

Attendance
All students must attend regularly. No more than 3 absences are allowed. Use them wisely for health and other serious issues. Having more than 3 absences, arriving to class late, and engaging in behavior that is distracting to the rest of the class are grounds for significant lower mark in class participation. If it is necessary for you to be absent from class, it is your responsibility to get the homework assignments from either the instructor or a fellow student. If you expect to miss one or two classes, please use the University Absence Reporting Website https://sims.rutgers.edu/ssra/ to indicate the date and reason of your absence. An email is automatically sent to the instructor.

Disabilities Policies
In case students with disabilities should require any special type of assistance and would like to request accommodations, they must follow the procedures outlined at http://disabilityservices.rutgers.edu/request.html

Grade Distribution:
Class Attendance and participation: 15%
Homework and assignments: 15%
Compositions: 25%
Midterm exam in class: 20%
Final exam at home: 25%

Academic Integrity and Plagiarism
Violations of academic integrity policy will result in disciplinary measures. Violations include: cheating, fabrication, plagiarism, denying others access to information or material, and facilitating violations of academic integrity. In order to avoid plagiarism (the representation of the words or ideas of others as one’s own), every quotation must be identified by quotation marks or appropriate indentation and must be properly cited in the text or in a footnote. Always acknowledge your sources clearly and completely when you paraphrase or summarize material from another source (in print, electronic, or other medium) on whole or in part. If you are in doubt, please consult the policy on plagiarism and academic integrity at Rutgers and do not hesitate to ask your instructor for clarifications.
